Headline:
Outbreaks of rain clearing to heavy showers.

Today:
A band of rain, heavy at times, will move across the region through the morning. Turning brighter for the afternoon, though slow moving showers developing, some possibly thundery with hail. Staying breezy towards coastal locations and feeling rather cool. Maximum temperature 19 deg C (66 deg F).

Tonight:
Scattered showers continuing through the night, some heavy with the risk of hail and thunder. Winds remaining generally light, but staying breezy towards the coast. Staying fairly mild. Minimum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Sunday:
Scattered showers throughout the day, with a continued risk of some heavy and thundery outbreaks. Clouds breaking to give sunny spells between downpours. Feeling cooler, particularly at breezy coastal locations. Maximum temperature 18 deg C (64 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Unsettled weather continuing through into next week with scattered showers on Monday easing into Tuesday giving sunny spells before a heavy band of rain moves across the region through Wednesday.
